

Timothy Eren Kurusu's Terms Of Service [For Commissions/Work]

Please read thoroughly through my terms of service before ordering a commission.

Be kind and respectful when messaging me.

RULES

I retain the copyright of the artwork. While you are granted perpetual, non-exclusive, royalty-free right to reproduce, use, distribute, display the art work once completed, I retain the right to adapt and make derivative work.

My art is to never be used for non-fungible tokens (NTFS) or placed in any AI generators.

If my art is ever or at all submitted to an AI generator, you will face severe backlash such as:

- Being blacklisted by me.

- If the situation gets out of hand, a lawsuit will ensue.

If you use my art for anything such as the following:

- Using an icon/banner on social media or any platform.
- Using any streaming assets/sprites.

- I ask for permanent credits in descriptions.

Please credit me as 'Timothy Eren Kurusu' when you do so. I am also okay with my socials being shared as a form of crediting.

- I am allowed to use any commission piece for my portfolio as I see fit as the creator of the art piece.

I CAN SAY NO TO ANY COMMISSION I WANT.

PAYMENT PROCESS

I ONLY ACCEPT PAYPAL AS DIRECT PAYMENT.

(I sadly do not have direct alternatives besides paypal, however I have a ko-fi that allows any payment from any source.)

Full payment upfront is REQUIRED before any progress can be made on the commission at all.

- Hagglng prices is not acceptable.
- Refunds are negotiable, especially during the rough sketch phase. However once I enter the coloring/lining stages of the piece, refunds are no longer an option.

PROCESS

If you have a certain pose or background please let me know beforehand, otherwise I'll use my creative liberty on how the piece will look and be finished.

TIME LIMIT: Commissions are usually finished within a week to a month. Unless life gets in the way, to disrupt the commission flow, I will notify updates when I can. I ask for patience please, I am an artist but I also have a busy life.

REQUESTING CHANGES

During the sketch phase of the commission, you're allowed unlimited changes to the piece that you see fit before it enters the lining stage.

Once the piece reaches the lining/coloring stages, requesting changes to the art piece will be limited before I start asking for payment for each change. You will be allowed up to 5 alterations to the art piece, once you surpass this limit, you will be charged $2 per change to the commission.

The commission will not be completed or finished until the charges have been met.

I will provide updates at each stage of the commission:

- Rough sketch/idea phase
- Perfected sketch phase
- Lined phase
- Flat color phase
- Final Product

END PRODUCT/RECEIVING THE ART

Once the piece has reached full completion to the buyer's standards, I will request that you give me an email address to send the art piece to you in full quality.

You will be provided alternate versions of the same piece given diversity of how to see fit of owning the image. (Please refer to the Rules section of the document before planning on publicly using the art piece anywhere.)

Upon reading this document, commissioning me means you have read and understand the terms and rules to my art and will follow these terms.
